

Organise a Bake Off

- Organise at your place of work, school or at a regularly attended event.
- Give people plenty of time to get some ideas brewing, buy ingredients, and make their bakes.
- Price each piece of cake or slice at a reasonable price and create small pieces allowing everyone to try a bit of each.
- Choose a judge to decide who's won your 'bake off'. Do you have a natural Mary Berry or perhaps a Paul Hollywood in the office?

- Some good categories for judging are taste, presentation, inventiveness and originality
- Maybe ask one of our speakers to come down and judge on the day, accompany it with a talk letting everyone know what a great cause they are raising money for.
- You could also get everyone to write down their favorite and secretly submit them – the people’s choice award!
- You can issue a certificate (which we can provide) for the winner.
- It is always a good idea to get your bakers to write down all the ingredients of their bakes before putting them on sale. Just to ensure any one with allergies is well informed.

If you decide to do a Bake Off please let us know!
We can help with information about the Friends and about The Connection to help you fundraise, and provide details of how to transfer the funds you raise.
